Young ladies under twenty summers should never flirt with city drummers. Because, full often, they will find those drummers leave young wives behind.

W. H. LANGLEY, President of the Gallipolis, McArthur & Columbus Railroad, arrived in town on Saturday evening last. He is stopping at the Hubert House.

The weather has improved during the past week. The three first days of the present week were very pleasant. All was sunshine without snow.

HUGH RADISH.—L. D. BARNES, of McArthur, brought a radish to our sanctum last Thursday, which weighed only sixteen pounds, of his own raising. It was, no doubt, the largest radish ever raised in Southern Ohio. As a radish raiser he will "wear the belt" for about 100 years.

Excellent for Use.

The superior quality and entire purity of Speer's Port Grape Wine, of New Jersey, has induced thousands of physicians to write about, and prescribe it in their practice as the best and most reliable to be had.

The above wine is excellent for females, also for family use. WINTER seems inclined to set in early this year. This is bad for the poor people who depend upon their daily earnings for a livelihood, earnings which, in too numerous instances have either been sadly cut down, or entirely swept away, as one of the exigencies of the public. We trust that charity will be active and large-handed the coming winter; but she will be put to her utmost capacity.

A new time schedule took effect on the Marietta & Cincinnati Railroad, on Sunday morning last. Not having been furnished with a copy of the new time table, we cannot give our readers the correct time of the arrival of the trains. Only one passenger train each way stops at Dundas. The way-mail trains, which pass, between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon of each day, except Sunday, make no stops at Dundas—the mail being caught on a long-necked white bird, called a crane. This is a cheap way to transport the mail, but we can't say whether it will be much of an improvement on the old, sure and safe way or not. If the neck of the white crane at Dundas fails to catch our large mail sacks, which are filled daily with letters and newspapers, it would perhaps improve the activity of the old bird by giving it a coat of colored paint. The people have no faith in the crane—all prefer the American Eagle as a mail messenger.

The new time of running trains is very unprofitable to C. W. BARNETT, proprietor of the back line. He receives a small salary for carrying the mail to and from Dundas, and, as the mail trains do not stop at the station, he cannot carry passengers to and from the trains, but is compelled to make two trips with the mail each day.

P. S.—As we go to press we learn that the mail east will be carried on the Express after to-day, (Tuesday), which passes Dundas about 12:20.

Is Wood's Household Magazine for November, the table of contents spread for a Thanksgiving feast, and gives evidence that no efforts have been spared that could add to its excellence. "A Sermon on a Skimmer," is not only pleasing in its quaintness, and originality, but contains sound logic. "Mrs. Pomeroy's Pin Money," is capital. "Upon the Stand," is another meritorious sketch, by the popular writer, Kate W. Hamilton. "Coffish and Potatoes," by Eleanor Kirk, is a short serial which opens well. "Growing Aged Together," by the Rev. Robert Collyer, is well worth the price of the year's subscription; it is full of the man's eloquence—powerful in its simplicity. There are many other interesting articles had we space to mention them. The poetry in this number is unusually good. A new feature of the magazine is the introduction of pictures, and the illustration, "Fast, Present and Future," has given us an exceedingly pretty picture. Price of magazine, one dollar per year—with the chromo "Yosemite," one dollar and a half. Address Wood's Household Magazine, Newburgh, N. Y.

Prof. W. H. DONALDSON, the balloonist who successfully sailed from Portsmouth, Ohio, to New Plymouth, in this county, in May, 1872, ascended from Newark, N. J., last Wednesday, and in descending in the evening, near Clarenceville, I. J., the balloon struck the earth with force at a place where there was nothing to grapple, and for half an hour skipped and bumped hither and thither a quarter of a mile. The basket and its occupant were at one time dashed against a farm fence, which was demolished at the point of contact, and Mr. Donaldson received a severe blow on the jaw. The neighbors, farm laborers, and others hurried to his assistance from every direction. The balloon crossed the track of the Brooklyn Central and Jamaica Railroad almost at the instant that a train was passing.

All the old farmers of Vinton County feel quite happy over the election of farmer WILLIAM ALLEN to the office of Governor. Among the happiest of them, is JOSHUA JONES, Esq., who gives an account of his "joy and gladness," in a letter which we take the liberty to publish in another part of the paper. Hope he will write us again soon.

Letter from Josiah Jones, Esq.

NEAR X ROADS MEETING HOUSE,
Nov. 3, 1873.

FRIEND BOWEN:

I've been feeling so good since the election that I can't keep it all to myself, and concluded I'd indite a few lines for your consideration. My dear old woman (that's Polly Ann) says she 'blikes I'm sorter crazy-like since I'd heard that Bill Allen was 'lected. That may all be true, for there's no use disputin' with a woman, you know. It's enough to cause a good old Democrat to become nearly crazy with joy to hear that we've whipped the Rads in the great State of Ohio. It is a proud day for the Democracy, although it was mighty close work to win. I could'n sleep for fear "Old Bill" would yet be cheated out of his office, and to learn the truth of the matter, I loaded up a few chickens, some butter, and cabbages, and hitched the old mare to the wagon, and went to town accompanied by Polly Ann, who wanted to buy some calico for our girls and jeans for the boys, and some other nick-nacks. The roads were heavy, but the old mare took us along right smart, and we reached town at an airy hour.

I let the old woman do the trading and I started for the post-office, and on the way I met my friend Gunning, who looked kinder sober. I asked him what could be the matter (for I surmised something wrong), and he says:

"Well, Josiah, I have good news on the one hand but bad on the other. Bill Allen's 'lected sure, but I went Gunning and didn't get a 'smell-of-an office."

"Well," says I, kind o' soothing like, "that's bad for you, but a no thing for 'Old Bill'."

He seemed to feel good over my last expression and smiled upon the former. I told him game would be plentier next time, and with this remark I passed on to look after my mail.

I met Mac, our good-looking and well-bearded Postmaster, at the delivery window, but he seemed to look bearded in his den, and I asked him:

"What's the news, Mac?"

Says he, "Bill Allen's 'lected," and he smiled a ghastly smile as he handed out my mail.

What everybody said must be true, and I never felt happier in my life—I felt stouter and younger than for years, and could hardly keep from shouting right there in the post-office. We have fought on for twenty years, and it is a blessed thought to know that we are conquerors at last.

Well, I went and told the old woman the good news, and she was rejoiced too. We got the goods in the wagon as soon as possible and hurried for home, and told the good news to the children and neighbors; and on our way we concluded, as soon as we got home, to kill one of our nicest, fattest roosters and have a feast over the 'lection. Which we did, and there was great rejoicing in the household.

Now, friend Bowen, this is not writ for the paper, but you can do as you please with it. Next week I will tell you of something else I heard while in town.

Yours in the cause,
JOSHUA JONES, Esq.

THE COUNTY INFIRMARY BUILDING.

—During the past four days we have, for the first time, paid a visit to the County Infirmary Building which is being erected by GILMAN, Ward & Co., about two miles north of McArthur. Mr. O. W. GILMAN, who is superintending the work, and who is at present residing on the Infirmary Farm, received us very cordially and afforded every facility for inspecting the work on the building—from the yet unfinished cellar to the improved and substantial style of putting on of the rafters. Mr. GILMAN, who has superintended the construction of the building, is a skillful and energetic mechanic; and when the building is completed, every honest man will feel proud of it and give him the highest praise for erecting such a magnificent building, and of saving to the county hundreds and hundreds of dollars. In a short time we shall lay before our readers a sketch of the institution from its commencement.

Dr. N. J. Bowers, Dentist, McArthur, O.

THE FIRST IMPULSE.—This is the title of an entirely new and original $2.00 steel engraving, which the Publishers of the Schoolday Magazine are giving free to every subscriber for 1874. This Magazine is the handsomest and best Dollar Monthly published everywhere, and would be cheap, even at $1.50, but when this attractive picture is given into the bargain—all for $1.00—we should think everybody must subscribe. A three cent stamp sent to the Publishers, J. W. DAUGMAY & Co., Philadelphia, will bring all the particulars. Be sure and send for it. c.w.t.

To our Patrons.

Our subscribers in arrears will bear us out that we have not harassed them for our dues. We know that times are now and have been for some time past, hard, and that money, particularly with farmers, has been scarce and difficult to get. For this reason, we have been lenient. But because we have not troubled those in arrears much the past summer, is no reason why we can continue to be lenient. We pay cash for paper and labor, and must have money to pay with. We desire every one of our readers indebted to us to settle without delay. We must have money to carry on our business. County and Township orders taken at par on all debts due this office.

THE ONLY KNOWN MEDICINE THAT AT THE SAME TIME Purges, Purifies, and Strengthens the System. Dr. TUTT'S PILLS are composed of many ingredients. Prominent among them are Sassaaparilla and Wild Cherry, so united as to act together the one through its salutative and purgative action, the other through its tonic and cathartic, a desideratum long sought for by medical men, but never before accomplished. In other words, they do the work of two medicines and do it much better.
